White's Appeal Refused

Attorney Seeks Supreme Court Stay

Chances are good that Robert Excel White and James Owen Livingston will be the first persons to be executed in Texas since 1964.

The State Court of Criminal Appeals Tuesday refused to hear appeals of the death sentence for the pair, clearing the way for their scheduled Dec. 10 execution.

However, White's court-appointed attorney, James E. Abernathy of McKinney, said he will seek a stay of execution from the U.S. Supreme Court until he has time to prepare a formal appeal of the sentence to the Supreme Court.

White has indicated all along that he wants to die, and Abernathy's appeal attempts are admittedly against White's wishes.

Both White and Livingston—along with Livingston's brother, Gary Dale Livingston—were convicted of the $60 robbery and triple murder which occurred in Princeton on May 10, 1964.

Gary Livingston currently is serving a prison sentence for his part in the robbery-killing, after it was determined he stayed in the trio's car during the murders.

The death sentences for White and James Livingston were pronounced by 199th District Court Judge Tom Ryan of Plano on Tuesday, Nov. 9.

If the pair are executed on Dec. 10 as scheduled, news coverage will be limited to two reporters from the two major wire services, while other newsmen will watch on closed circuit television.

Texas Department of Corrections officials said Tuesday only reporters from the Associated Press and United Press International would be allowed in the small execution room.

"The death chamber is a small room and space is limited," said department spokesman Ron Taylor. "We felt it necessary to put these restrictions into effect because of the large number of requests we expect when executions are resumed."

Taylor said other reporters could watch the deaths on closed circuit television, but that cameras or recording devices "will not be permitted in the death chamber or the room where other newsmen are watching the television screen."

There are 50 men on Texas' death row. Two executions have been scheduled for December but they were expected to be delayed by court appeal processes.

Former Huntsville Item editor Don Reid, who spent 26 years as an official execution witness for the Texas Department of Corrections, watched 189 men die in the electric chair.

The last execution he witnessed was on a warm summer night in 1964 when Joseph Johnson Sr. was strapped into the electric chair. It was also the last execution the state of Texas performed.

According to Reid, reporters really don't know what they are in for when they volunteer to witness an execution. As Reid described one execution:

"The condemned man was brought to the death chamber at the stroke of midnight. His head had been shaved to provide a better conductor for the electricity that would be running through his body.

"A mask was placed over the man's eyes, and cotton was put in his nose to stem the hemorrhaging that would occur.

"The man was strapped to the chair, and the executioner, sitting in another room and watching the man through a one-way mirror, threw the switch.

"The first charge of electricity, 1,800 volts, flashed through the condemned man. The shock was so intense that the man rose a couple of inches out of his chair. The heat was so intense that the blood in the man's brain boiled, killing him instantly.

"The current was reduced to 200 volts, then increased to 1,200 volts, then shut off. The attending physician examined the man and declared him legally dead."

Richardson Will Give Flu Shots

The City of Richardson's Environmental Health Dept. is sponsoring a one-day Swine Flu clinic Sunday, Nov. 28, in the Community Room of the Citizen Bank Center. Inoculations will be given from noon until 8 p.m. Any individual between three to 64 requiring the bivalent vaccine must have a doctor's certificate indicating the type of illness. Questions should be directed to the Environmental Health Dept. at 235-8331.

Burglars Rip Off Bird, Gum Machine

An exotic parrot was stolen from the Show & Field Pet Center Monday night.

Police said the bird was taken sometime between the hours of 5:30 and 11 p.m. from the store located at 107 Jupiter Shopping Center. A small amount of cash was also taken.

Officers also investigated the weekend burglary of the Parks and Recreation Building at 401 W. 16th St. A vacuum cleaner and a gum machine were taken in the burglary. Police said there was no sign of forced entry.

In other action, police investigated three thefts of construction materials from the Fox and Jacobs Addition, took reports of three cases of criminal mischief, answered 38 calls for assistance and arrested a 22-year-old man on an out of town warrant.

Three cars were collision at 7:45 a.m. at the intersection of Parker and Roundrock. Involved were a 1961 Chevrolet driven by Kenneth Ray Self of 2033 Willow, a 1975 Pontiac driven by Timothy Mark Hornick of 2838 Townbluff and a 1968 Mercury driven by Robert Edward Eggebrecht of 2728 S. Hillbriar. A fence owned by H.G. McDaniel of 2613 Stone Moss also sustained about $100 in damages.

Brian Scott Prather of 2817 Raintree lost control of his 1972 Oldsmobile at 1:30 p.m. at the intersection of SH 5 and Spring Creek Pkwy. when he attempted to avoid another vehicle. The Oldsmobile overturned in a ditch.

Student Wins Art Contest

Linda Helton Gets $500 In National Competition

The smell of raspberries has turned into the smell of money for Plano Senior High School art student Linda Helton.

Linda's illustration of a short story entitled "Raspberries" won the $500 first prize in Seventeen magazine's annual art contest. The prize-winning illustration will be featured in the January, 1977, issue of the magazine.

Described as "stitched, stuffed, printed, painted and embroidered," Linda's fabric print illustrated the story of an ugly old school custodian secretly in love with a third grade teacher who used raspberry flavored perfume.

"The illustration is of the back of the man with a rake who is being tormented by kids," the senior explained. "The old man is 'imagining' a series of faces of the teacher which are surrounded by raspberries."

Not only was Linda's illustration selected as the winning art entry from among 100 semifinalists, it also illustrates the prize-winning short story selected by Seventeen.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill T. Helton, 1409 Armstrong Dr., hopes the first place will help her be accepted at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., one of the few colleges in the nation with an art school.

Planning to concentrate on "people" drawings, the National Honor Society member hopes to become a freelance illustrator in the future. By doing so, she would be following in the footsteps of her mother who is a freelance fashion illustrator and is also a member of the advisory committee for the Senior High art program.

"My mother has always encouraged me to draw," Linda said, "and she is also more critical of my work than is Mrs. Cotter (art teacher Betty)."

Linda began formal art instruction in the seventh grade at Bowman Middle School, but cited the intensive study available through the three-hour Art Major Studies program for her recent success.

"I've only had Mrs. Shirley Holmes and Mrs. Cotter as my art instructors for the last six years and they have been very helpful," she explained. "But the Major Studies program has really helped since time is the key to art development."

Mrs. Cotter agreed that the time available through Major Studies to take art field trips has helped Linda and other student artists. However, she cited another reason for Linda's success.

"Linda thinks," Mrs. Cotter stressed, "and art must reflect thought."

And Linda thinks that Seventeen's decision to turn raspberries into money was most thoughtful.

Estes Knocks Briscoe's Plan

By ROLAND LINDSEY
UPI Capitol Reporter

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — An association of Texas school administrators has criticized Gov. Dolph Briscoe for failing to recommend statewide teacher pay increases to the legislature.

Dallas superintendent Dr. Nolan Estes said Tuesday the association would recommend a $900 million school finance plan to increase the state's share of local school costs and raise teacher salaries by up to $400 million.

He said Briscoe's plan to have the state assume $840 million in school financing would pit teachers against taxpayers by requiring the teachers to go to local school boards for salary increases.

"We think it is inappropriate to pit the teachers against the taxpayers, and we want to avoid that kind of confrontation in Texas," Estes said.

"We believe the key to quality education is excellence in teaching, and we believe the teachers are fighting the same kind of inflationary battle as other people.

"Our proposal would give most teachers a 20 per cent increase over the next two years."

Experienced teachers with masters degrees would get the largest increases under the TSAC plan, which would increase the beginning teacher salary to $10,000 annually by 1981.

The school administrators' proposal increases the state's share of the foundation school program from the present 75 per cent to 85 per cent, leaving 15 per cent to the local districts. Briscoe's plan calls for 90 per cent state funding, and a House committee version provides for 100 per cent state financing.

Other provisions of the school finance plan recommended by the School Administrators Council, which represents 16,000 administrators and trustees, include:

— Freezing local districts' share of school operating costs at $396 million, about $164 million below present levels.

— An increase from $100 million to $150 million in state equalization funds to poor districts.

— A $25 per student bonus to districts which in the 25 per cent poorest districts in the state.

Assistant City Manager Robert Pope has announced his resignation as of Dec. 31 to go into private business.

Employed by the City of Plano since April of 1971, Pope has served as assistant city manager since April of this year. His prime responsibility is for public works.

The Texas Tech graduate has been the city's engineer and assistant engineer for the first four years of his employ. Prior to coming to the city, he was with the city's consulting engineers firm.

He and his wife Marilyn have lived in Plano since 1973.

"We hate to see Robert go," said City Manager David Griffin, "but we are pleased for him personally. This will be a good opportunity for him. He has done a real good job for us."

Alan Ratliff and Al Dougal also serve as assistant city managers.

Blaze Guts Plano Home

The David Brown home at 2413 Peppertree was heavily damaged in an early Sunday fire.

Fire Marshal Bill Threet said the department was called by Mrs. Brown at 12:52 a.m. and told that the house was already in flames. When the firefighters arrived three minutes later they found the front and east end of the residence totally involved.

The fire apparently spread from the fireplace which had not been screened before Brown fell asleep on the couch. Brown told Threet he awoke to find himself totally surrounded by flames.

Brown yelled for his wife to get out of the house and they were able to escape by different doors. Neither were injured, although two pet dogs lost their lives.

Threet said the home apparently had been burning for about 30 minutes before the fire department was called, judging from the charring in the attic. Eleven men and four pieces of equipment brought the blaze under control by 1:14 a.m. and returned to the station at 2:30 a.m.

Opera Attracts Plano Students

Again this year, almost 14,000 area school children—including many from Plano—will be opera goers in December.

The Dallas Civic Opera has announced that the four student performances of "La Boheme" are heading for a sell-out. Scheduled for Dec. 7, 9, 13 and 14, the specially tailored, two-hour version of the Puccini classic will be presented for private and parochial school children from Plano, Dallas, Richardson, Garland, Irving and Mesquite.

Featured artists are Judith Haddon as Mimi, George Livings as Rodolfo, Robert Termine as Marcello and Linda Zoghy as Musetta. Conductor will be Joseph Rescigno, nephew of Dallas Civic Opera's general director and permanent conductor.

Jac Alder, Managing Director of Theatre three, will again serve as onstage narrator to guide the children through the performances.

In addition to the student performances, Dallas Civic Opera has established special group rates for students wishing to attend regular performances of DCO's 1976 season. Remaining operas still to be seen are "Salome" starring Roberta Knie and "La Boheme" starring Elena Mauti-Nunziata and Beniamino Prior.

Agent Discusses Garden Lighting

Lighting can be an enhancing feature to a garden or outdoor area during the evening hours, notes James R. Risinger, Collin County Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Landscape design can be created or emphasized with the use of night lighting. The proper use of colored lights can change a garden into a jungle or a fantasyland.

Lighting is also useful in lengthening the recreation time on an outdoor playground, in the family pool or just relaxing on the patio, points out Risinger.

Outdoor lighting must be carefully planned for energy savings and the best possible light intensity. Some of the more common mistakes include using too much light or too high an intensity, poor lighting angle, bad location of light fixtures and inadequate shielding.

Play areas and patios should have light fixtures located as high as possible but 20 to 25 feet is the average. Several lights are best, with the intensity not to exceed 150 watts. Gardens require a more subdued light; this can be accomplished by providing a floodlamp for each 750 square feet of space.

Garden lighting should be carefully planned to enhance the garden and outdoor living area and should be flexible enough to allow the homeowner to highlight certain plants and features with the different seasons.

Lighting can be an enhancing feature to a garden or outdoor area during the evening hours, notes James R. Risinger, Collin County Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Prine Special Slated

Country-folk singer and composer John Prine will star in a special one-hour performance, "One Of A Kind: John Prine," Tuesday, Nov. 30 at 10:30 p.m. on Channel 13 during the public television station's year-end membership campaign "15 Fantastic Nights."

Prine, a Chicago mailman until five years ago when he was discovered in a Chicago coffee house by Kris Kristofferson and Paul Anka, sings both serious and lighthearted songs in a twangy baritone that has been described as a cross between a young Johnny Cash and Bob Dylan.

Many of Prine's songs deal with a disillusioned fringe of Middle America, evoking memories of Army posts, ruck stops, lost loves and individuals who don't seem to fit into today's society.

Included on the special, all composed and sung by

Prine, are: "Spanish Pipe Dream," "Sam Stone (an unflinching view of a war veteran who became a drug addict while in Vietnam)," "Pretty Good," "Hello In There" (a sensitive portrayal of an elderly couple living out their existence in a city), "The Late John Garfield Blues," "Take the Star Out of the Window," "The Great Compromise" and "Flag Decal."

STRETCHING YOUR DOLLARS

BY DR. W. L. DORRIES

Continuing our series of articles about life insurance, the last type of policy to be explained is the endowment policy. Saving is the primary emphasis in an endowment policy, but some protection also is included.

The major purpose for this policy is to build up a certain amount of money in a given number of years. Endowment insurance can be purchased on the basis of 10, 15, 20, 25 or 30 years, or to mature to cash at a certain age. When the policy reaches a point at which the cash savings is equal to the amount of the face value, the policy matures.

At this point the coverage ends, the protection is zero and the money becomes available to you. Should the insured person die before that date, the face value of the policy is paid to the beneficiary.

Premiums are much higher for endowment policies than other types because of the emphasis placed upon savings. When you buy one of these policies, you select a date on which you want to receive the money.

Endowment policies can be used to build a retirement fund. After your children are grown and have their own families, you could buy a 10- or 15-year endowment policy to mature at retirement age.

Since endowment insurance is the most expensive type, it should not be used as the basic insurance protection for the family with young children. It should be used only for a specific purpose after adequate protection is provided for the family income provider.

Dr. Dorries is head of the Dept. of Economics-Finance at ETSU and coauthored a Personal Finance book published by Charles E. Merrill Publishing Co. in 1974.)

Pitman Third Phase Begins

Completion Scheduled For Next Spring

Hunt Properties Inc. has begun construction on the third phase of Pitman Corners at W. 15th St. and Custer Rd. in Plano, William L. Hamm, president of the real estate development firm, has answered. The 106,000-square-foot addition will more than double the size of Pitman Corners.

The new phase is immediately south of the 90,000 square foot first and second phase, which opened in August and is now 90-percent leased. Skaggs-Albertson is the anchor tenant, with Bales Jewelers, J. Kay Florist, On Your Mark, L.P. Good Buy, Emerson Books, Light N' Lively and Executive Hair Designers already opened for business.

Presently under construction are Sterling Sound, Home Crafters Interiors, Dallas Title, the Fabric Gallery, Pizza Inn, Exxon and a 10,000-square-foot True Value Hardware Store.

The third phase will be ready for occupancy in the spring of 1977.

Pitman Corners eventually will total 750,000 square feet on a 47-acre tract of land at the crossroads of growth in Plano. The developed value will be in excess of $18 million. The shopping center is the focal point of Hunt Properties overall, $150 million development, also known as Pitman Corners, which includes residential and office communities.

Studies show that Plano is the fastest growing suburban city in the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex. The city is welcoming 150 new families a month, most of whom earn above average spendable incomes exceeding $20,000 per year. The population is currently estimated at 47,500 persons and is growing at an annual rate of 16 percent. A governmental study predicts 80,000 residents by the end of 1980. "The central location and exciting design of Pitman Corners creates an opportunity for high quality gift and clothing boutiques, specialty shops, restaurants, and professional people to serve a growing and affluent suburban market," Hamm explained. "We will be contacting, on a selective basis, quality merchants to locate in Pitman Corners to achieve a tenant mix tuned to the market. We expect to become the primary business center for a projected 250,000 persons by 1990," he continued.

The newest phase of Pitman Corners will have five distinct grade levels. Sheltered walkways, landscaped berms, graphics control, and other aesthetically pleasing architectural features are included in the design.

"The successful formula of complementary tenant mix and building design found in Hunt Properties' Promenade in Richardson, Old Town in Dallas, and the Town and Country center in Houston is our goal," Hamm noted. "Our design and prime location will encourage residents of Plano and neighboring Canyon Creek in Richardson to visit Pitman Corners where they can stroll around and casually enjoy their shopping," he continued.

Hunt Properties owns all four corners formed by W. 15th St. and Custer Rd.

"This has given our urban planning staff a unique opportunity to design heavily landscaped clusters of buildings with grade-level parking. The design blends with the quality residential neighborhoods around the property," Hamm stated.

Hunt Properties has been active in Plano developing single and multi-family neighborhoods, shopping centers, business and office parks and a research and development park since 1960.

Nursing Home Is Operational

Heritage Manor Nursing Home is open and in operation.

The new 150-bed nursing facility started accepting patients on Nov. 1 and, according to Bill Sheffield, president of Heritage Manor, and the Plano facility's administrator, everything is fully operational and 30 percent occupied.

With a staff of seven nurses led by Joyce Laux, R.N., Director of Nurses, and 16 nurse's aides, along with all auxiliary personnel needed, the nursing home is currently offering service to both bedfast and ambulatory patients.

William A. Sheffield has been in the nursing home business for more than 13 years and is presently serving as a member of the Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators. His commission began with an appointment by Governor Dolph Briscoe in 1975 and he is serving a six-year term on the board. Sheffield is also a member of the Texas Nursing Home Assn., for which he is chairman of the Health Committee on Standards and Certifications and the Fire Safety Inspections Committee and serves on the Task Force for Alternative Sources of Income. He is also a member of the American Health Care Assn.

Heritage Manor opened its first nursing home in Dayton, Tx. in 1963 and opened another home in Canton in 1964. Both of these homes have grown and are still in operation.

Thanksgiving Day Calls For Turkey

Traditional Thanksgiving dinners may mean different things to different people, but in almost every household, turkey plays a major role in the holiday meal. The story at right gives several tips for making your bird turn out perfectly and also offers a number of "trimming" recipes including a delicious stuffing made with pecans. Try one or all of the dishes for an especially happy Thanksgiving Day.

'Horn-O-Plenty' Creates Bright Holiday Table

Since the dinner table is so very important on America's big feast day—Thanksgiving—one of the best ways to add a new spark of excitement to it is through table decorations and a centerpiece.

Autumn flowers and fall colors may be great decorative touches around the house at Thanksgiving, but on the all-important dinner table a touch of sweetness is best to highlight the feast.

A Thanksgiving "Horn-O-Plenty" centerpiece, filled with fresh fruits, nuts and assorted candies, will add a festive touch to your table and satisfy your family and guests after the big meal.

Fruits and candies of all types of fall colors are available and the sweet-eating horn would be appropriate for a variety of other autumn occasions such as luncheons and after-the-game parties.

That holiday feeling is in the air and it's the time of year when Americans are thinking about Thanksgiving and the plans and preparations that go into making a bountiful and elegant feast for family and friends.

Although Thanksgiving dinner is typically a time when all family members try to get together to celebrate the holiday...the dinner itself may differ considerably from family to family.

If you ask a friend what's on his Thanksgiving menu, you may receive an answer such as "Oh, the traditional dinner with all the trimmings." But the word "traditional" may mean different things to different people, and your friend may mean goose, duck, rabbit, turkey or something else.

However, it is usually America's favorite bird, the turkey, that graces most tables on Thanksgiving Day, and it will probably be surrounded by favorite dishes from special recipes passed down from generation to generation.

Although the recipes may be the same, home economists say that preparation of today's holiday dinner is far different than what our great grandmothers had to contend with. Modern day appliances, from electric carving knives and mixers to large refrigerator-freezers, have made preparation of a large dinner far easier and faster too.

Another thing that has definitely changed from grandma's day is the length of time it takes to roast a turkey. Today's turkeys are grown faster, are younger and more tender, and as a result, they take less time to cook.

If turkey is on your Thanksgiving menu, the most reliable way to make sure it is cooked to perfection is to use a meat thermometer. Insert it into the thick part of the thigh, making sure it does not touch the bone. Roast it in a preheated 325 degree oven until the thermometer reads 180 or 185 degrees.

Because turkeys vary due to their shape and variety, cooking times will vary too. For those who do not use a meat thermometer, here is an approximate cooking time chart for roasting turkey in a 325 degree oven:

'Traditional' Meal Has Variety of Good Food

If the ready to cook weight is 6-8 lbs., cook for 3-3½ hours; 8-12 lbs., 3½-4½ hrs.; 12-16 lbs., 4½-5½ hrs.; 16-20 lbs., 5½-6½ hrs.; 20-24 lbs., 6½-7 hrs. (Note: Unstuffed turkeys require about one-half hour less roasting time).

Home economists also say that there are several things you should do to check the degree of doneness if you do not use a thermometer. They say that when the turkey is done, the leg and thigh should move easily and the thick part of the thigh should feel soft when pressed with your protected thumb and forefinger.

Also, prick the skin on the thigh and look at the juice that will appear. It should be clear and not pink in color. If after testing, there are still some doubts, it would be well to allow an extra half hour of roasting time.

The "trimmings" of a turkey meal vary considerably, but listed below are several recipes that can help make this Thanksgiving day a very special one for your family.

SOUTHERN CORNBREAD STUFFING

4 pkgs. (8 oz. each) cornbread stuffing mix
1 cup butter or margarine
2 navel oranges, chopped, skin and all
1 cup well-drained crushed pineapple
1 cup coarsely chopped pecans
1 tsp. nutmeg
3 cups orange juice
salt

Pour stuffing into a large bowl. In a skillet heat butter and stir in oranges, pineapple, pecans, nutmeg and orange juice. Bring to a boil and pour over stuffing. Stir until well blended. Season to taste with salt.

Just before turkey is ready to be roasted sprinkle it inside and out with salt and pepper. Stuff it at the neck and in the body cavity with stuffing mixture. Sew or skewer opening and roast in a shallow roasting pan. Makes enough stuffing for a 25 lb. turkey.

SPICED CRANBERRY CONSERVE

2 cups fresh cranberries, rinsed and drained
½ cup sugar
4 dried figs, coarsely chopped
½ cup dates, coarsely chopped
¼ tsp. cloves
½ stick cinnamon
1 can (8 oz.) pineapple tidbits one third cup water
1 tsp. lemon juice

Combine cranberries, sugar, figs, dates, cloves, cinnamon, pineapple and water in a saucepan. Bring to a boil and cook, stirring frequently, for 10 to 12 minutes. Add lemon juice and remove cinnamon stick. Spoon into hot sterilized jars and seal at once. Makes three cups.

SUNBURST YAM BAKE

2 cans (17 oz. each) yams, drained
1 can (13 oz.) pineapple tidbits, drained
¼ cup pure orange marmalade
1 cup miniature marshmallows
Heat oven to 350 degrees. Arrange yams in a circle in a 9-inch pie plate. Place pineapple in center. Dot yams and pineapple with marmalade. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Sprinkle with marshmallows and return to oven until marshmallows are melted and bubbling. Serves six.

LIMA BEANS IN LEMON SAUCE

2 boxes (10 oz. each) frozen lima beans
salt
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ tsp. crumbled dried rosemary

Pour into unbaked pie shell and top with cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean.

TURKEY QUICHE

3 eggs
1 cup leftover gravy
¼ cup chopped onion
2 cups cubed leftover turkey
¼ cup shredded cheddar or Swiss cheese
1 unbaked pie crust
Beat the eggs well. Add gravy and beat again. Mix in onion and turkey.

TURKEY AND CORNMEAL DUMPLINGS

2½ cups chicken broth
one third cup flour blended with ½ cup cup cold water
3 cups cubes leftover turkey
One-third cup cornmeal
1 tbsp. baking powder

1 tsp. cornstarch
3 tbsp. lemon juice
1 tbsp. parsley flakes
pepper

Cook limas with salt as directed on package label; partially drain. Add next two ingredients. Blend cornstarch with the lemon juice and stir into mixture. Cook, stirring, until slightly thickened. Add parsley, and salt and pepper to taste. Makes six servings.

HERBED MASHED POTATOES

4 cups riced or mashed hot potatoes
1 cup plain yogurt
2 tsp. each freeze-dried chives and parsley flakes
2 tsp. tarragon vinegar
2 tsp. dillseed
salt and pepper to taste
butter or margarine

Mix all ingredients, except butter. Put in shallow one-quart baking dish and dot with butter. Bake in preheated 375 degree oven for about 20 minutes. Makes four servings.

PRALINE PUMPKIN PIE

2 slightly beaten eggs
½ cups canned pumpkin
1 cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. ginger
¼ tsp. ground cloves
¼ tsp. nutmeg
1 & two-thirds cup evaporated milk
9-in. single crust unbaked pie shell
For topping:
2 tbsp. melted butter
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
one third cup chopped pecans

Combine eggs, pumpkin, sugar, salt and spices. Gradually add evaporated milk. Mix well. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) for 15 minutes; reduce to moderate heat (350 degrees) and continue baking about 40 minutes. Cool pie.

Praline Topping: Combine the butter, brown sugar and chopped pecans. Sprinkle evenly over pie. Place pie under broiler until top is bubbly, about one minute (watch pie carefully). Serve at once.

Leftovers Disguised In Main Dishes

Are you expecting company some time after Thanksgiving?

Main dishes made with Thanksgiving leftovers can be disguised so well that the tasty finished product won't bear any resemblance to dreary leftovers.

Turkey Pancake Rolls, for instance, are made with a special sauce that is as easy to prepare as it is delicious. Served with a tossed salad, buttered carrots and ice cream for dessert, this dish is a welcome relief from the usual leftover turkey sandwiches or salad.

All the recipes below (besides pancake rolls) are part of the Plano chapter of the American Assn. of University Women's new cookbook "Tasty Tidbits." A section of the cookbook is set aside for leftover recipes.

Anyone wishing to purchase a copy of the AAUW's cookbook should call Sue Gaston at 423-0302.

TURKEY PANCAKE ROLLS

1 egg
1½ cups milk
1½ cups biscuit mix
1 cup finely chopped celery
2 tbsp. butter
1½ cups finely diced turkey
¾ cup dairy sour cream
1 envelope instant turkey gravy
¾ cup water

Beat together first three ingredients with rotary beater until smooth. Pour onto hot, lightly greased griddle or skillet using about one third cup batter for each. Cook until edges start to dry and bottom is browned. Turn and cook second side. Set aside.

Cook celery in 1 tbsp. butter until tender-crisp, about five minutes. Stir in turkey and ½ cup sour cream; heat gently. Keep warm. Spread each pancake with 1 to 2 tbsp. of the turkey filling. Roll up, enclosing filling, and place seam side down in shallow baking pan. Dot with remaining butter.

Cover loosely with foil and bake at 400 degrees for 14 to 20 minutes until hot. Combine contents of gravy mix envelope and water; heat to boiling, stirring frequently. Stir in remaining ¼ cup sour cream and heat gently. Serve pancakes topped with gravy mixture. Garnish with parsley. Serves six.

A special way to serve leftover turkey is by turning it into Turkey Pancake Rolls. A sour cream gravy makes the meal a really different treat from plain leftover turkey sandwiches. Some of the other recipes provided above are from a cookbook being offered by the Plano chapter of the American Assn. of University Women. Besides offering leftover ideas, the "Tasty Tidbits" cookbook has some 175 pages of other delicious recipes for main dishes, desserts, salads, etc.

Inside Clothing

Labels May Mislead

By MICHAEL J. CONLON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—If the label inside your sweater or slacks says it's washable, does that mean you can't have it dry cleaned? Or if it says "do not dry clean," is it telling the truth?

Some segments of the dry cleaning industry claim the answers to those questions are so confusing that consumers may be ruining up to $6 million worth of garments every year through improper cleaning methods.

The Federal Trade Commission is in the midst of hearings designed to improve the regulations which require care labels in most garments. William Seitz, executive director of the Neighborhood Cleaners Association, which represents 3,000 cleaners in the Northeast, says the current set-up is "very misleading."

His group is urging the FTC to require both washing and dry cleaning advice on labels. As it now stands, he says, labels giving washing instruction do not have to include the fact that the item also can be dry cleaned. The FTC, he contends, has been leaving it up to the consumer to assume that was the case.

As an example of another problem, Seitz produced a 100 per cent acrylic sweater with a label saying "do not dry clean." Yet, he said, it has been dry cleaned five times and is perfectly good.

He also contends there are some fabrics that can be neither washed nor dry-cleaned, and they should have to be so labeled.

On the other side of the coin, some groups have complained that care labels saying "dry clean only" are too restrictive. Seitz' group says some manufacturers do not adequately test the washability of garments and take the easy way out by advising dry cleaning only. In any case, a bigger problem is that there is almost no enforcement of the rule. The neighborhood cleaners group has urged the FTC to require serious fines and penalties for manufacturers who put out inadequate labels.

A reader in Ventnor, N.J., has a follow-up question on our recent discussion about the rights of nonsmoking airline passengers:

"My husband and I recently flew from Pomona, N.J., to Las Vegas on a charter flight, No. 9971, American Airlines. When we sent in our reservations we requested the 'no smoking' seats. Upon entering the plane we noted with great relief that we were seated in the area clearly marked no smoking."

"However, once we were airborne there were people smoking all around us. When I questioned the stewardess she said that they do not enforce the ruling!

"I wrote to American Airlines on one of the questionnaires found in the pocket of the seat mentioning the above situation, but never received a reply. "What recourse does a person have, who does not smoke and in fact gets severe sinus headaches from smoke, when they clearly request a nonsmoking seat and then don't get it?"

The stewardess violated the law. The no-smoking rules apply to charters as well as regular flights. What you can do is this: Write to Action of Smoking and Health, Box 19556, 2000 H St. NW, Washington, D.C., 20006, enclosing a large, self-addressed stamped envelope. They will send you a form which you return to them and they then will prosecute it before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The group says it has been successful in the past on these matters and believes the only way to clean up the situation is on an airline-to-airline basis. One of their cases recently resulted in a consent decree against Allegheny Airlines under which that carrier now must make written and verbal announcements about the availability of no-smoking sections and may even put passengers who refuse to comply off the plane at the next stop.

Taster Is Experienced
Over 4000 Wines Tasted

NEW YORK (UPI) — There are more than 10,000 wines in the world and Grace Treber has had the good fortune of sampling almost half of them.

Miss Treber is an authority on wines. She recently concluded a five-year research assignment on the subject, traveling thousands of miles and visiting the greatest vineyards of several countries, including France, Germany, Italy and the United States.

"I have personally tasted some 4,000 wines," Miss Treber said. "Just a little of each, I assure you, stretched over a long period."

The result of her research is the World Wide Almanac and Wine Atlas, published this fall by the International Wine Society. The society, an independent organization with no affiliation to any vineyard and importer, said it is the first international wine almanac ever published.

"Wine is a good bargain for the American consumer," Miss Treber said. "You can pick up a nice bottle for $2. Or you can splurge and spend $10 or more on a bottle of real fine wine. Every wine has its place. I enjoy it with my meals, mainly with dinner."

"It is not true that wine is only for rich people. Sure, there are expensive wines, but there are plenty of reasonably priced bottles."

Miss Treber said 1945 was an excellent year for wine, perhaps one of the best in this century. She said wine consumption is up in the United States, a country where beer has had a strong market.

"It's catching up," Miss

Treber said. "Advertising is the key word. Americans are getting more sophisticated and they are discovering wine."

The traditional rule, she said, is to drink red wine at room temperature and white wine chilled. White wine goes best with fish and red complements meat. Rose can be enjoyed with both.

The International Wine Society held a "coming out party" for the wine almanac recently, featuring about 200 varieties of wines from a dozen countries.

Warning Issued
On Peat Moss

Commercial peat and peat mixtures may contain plant disease-causing organisms, says James R. Risinger, Collin County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Risinger notes that a study by plant pathologists in Pennsylvania showed that a number of lots of peat moss from foreign countries contained a water mold type fungus which is highly pathogenic. In addition, the 52 lots sampled all contained the fungus known as Fusarium.

Several species of the Fusarium fungus are plant pathogens while most are active in breaking down dead organic matter. Their presence is not surprising since the Fusarium fungus is so widespread in nature.

The so-called "sterile potting mixes" are far from sterile. If they were subjected to heat and decontaminated, they would again become infested shortly thereafter with organisms that degrade organic matter. However, plant pathogenic organisms are killed by sterilization and pose no threat to plants to be grown in the medium when the process is done correctly.

"Organisms that break down organic matter are essential to keep our plant production system going," Risinger pointed out. "If they were not efficient we would be buried in a sea of organic refuse. While the good organisms do their work, we try to limit the activity of those microorganisms that compete with us for our food supply and damage our ornamental plants," he added.

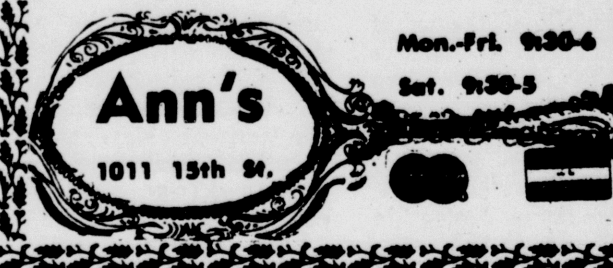

Buying peat moss in unbroken bags and storing it in a sheltered place out of contact with soil is the best way to avoid contamination.

African Antelope
Likes New Home

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI) — While extreme dryness in the deserts of south central New Mexico has made the region inhospitable for many forms of wildlife, a variety of African antelope known as the oryx has found the climate just like home.

In fact, the animal has done so well in the region that the Game and Fish Department recently expanded the herd.

"The program has been highly successful," said Walt Synder, chief of game management for the Game and Fish Department. "One of the reasons we picked them for the program was their ability to survive with very little water."

The Game and Fish Department began experimenting with oryx in 1963 to determine whether the animal could be transplanted in New Mexico under an exotic game program.

The first oryx were released on the White Sands Missile Range in southern New Mexico in 1969. Since that time, there have been eight more releases, bringing the present oryx population to about 250.

The Game and Fish Department has already had two limited hunts for the exotic animals. Snyder said five oryx permits were issued in 1974 and six were issued in 1975. The herd is doing so well that the department decided to double the number of permits for this year's oryx hunt, scheduled Dec. 18-21.

"They've adapted real well to the area," said Snyder. "The animals are extremely adaptable to really arid desert situations."

Snyder said the animals' native habitat in southwest Africa is a region "where water isn't readily available."

"They are surviving long periods of time without drinking water," he said. "In the pasture at our Red Rock experimental breeding station, we know of the animals going 45 days without drinking water."

Snyder said although there are some springs in the southern New Mexico desert where the animals have been transplanted, the oryx herd really doesn't rely on them for water.

"When it rains or snows, they can find some water in puddles on the roads and that's enough to satisfy them for a long time," he said.

Why Lone Star takes gas out of the ground.
Then pumps it right back in.

One of the big advantages of natural gas is that it can be stored to help meet your heating needs in the coldest weather.

We store enormous amounts of gas in 9 active underground storage facilities within the Lone Star system. In fact, we have storage capacity equal to all residential and commercial requirements in the Dallas Metropolitan Area for one and a half years.

Lone Star negotiates for the gas, buys, gathers and stores it according to anticipated customer need. The gas we store adds to our normal reserves during peak winter demands. And helps us deliver the best possible energy bargain to all our customers.

There's no need for our residential and commercial customers to worry about gas shortages this winter. Lone Star, through good management and the pioneering of concepts such as underground storage, can supply the gas you'll need.

And that's something a lot of other gas companies wish they could say to their customers these days.

Young Arteries Important

BY LELORD KORDEL
Number Seventeen of a Series

Arteries are seldom mentioned these days without the companion words "hardening" and "cholesterol." A lot of misconception has arisen from half-understood reports issued by physicians and medical laboratories on the need to "limit the diet" to avoid hardening of the arteries (arteriosclerosis), the condition which sometimes leads to a heart seizure or to ruptured blood vessels in the brain. That is why my sixth and final commandment is, "Young arteries above all else."

Cholesterol is a fat-like substance found in every living cell. Since cholesterol occurs in all living matter, we know it's essential to the body. It has been established beyond all doubt that the body can manufacture its cholesterol needs. Further, we know that under normal conditions excess, unwanted amounts of this fatty substance can be destroyed in the body.

But the most important thing for you to remember about cholesterol is this: The consumption of heavy starches causes deposits of cholesterol to form in the body, mainly in the arteries.

Cholesterol Blamed
Today, some medical scientists place the blame for too much cholesterol in the blood on foods that actually are valuable sources of nutrition—cheese, egg yolk, liver, gland meats, and unsaturated vegetable oils.

Diets are being prescribed that greatly restrict the use of these excellent foods. Also prohibited are pork, pies, rich cakes, cookies and all fried foods—none of which, of course, should be given a place in any diet.

Nothing, however, seems to be said about white bread, devitalized cereals, white rice, macaroni and similar pure-starch items.

Now let's check into the practical wisdom of these "low-fat" diets currently being prescribed indiscriminately for persons suspected of having "hardened" arteries.

Fats, the same as carbohydrates, are used by the body to supply heat and energy. Right at the start, we begin to realize that the average diet is top-heavy with two food elements—fats and carbohydrates—both with the same nutritional function: providing heat and energy.

Carbohydrates, when too plentiful in the diet, usurp the natural function of the fat foods, thereby allowing the fats to be deposited instead of being burned for energy. The fats you eat must be used for energy; otherwise they are "hoarded" in the tissues and in the arteries.

It is when fats are eaten to excess or combined with high-carbohydrate meals, that they pile up in all these unwanted and dangerous places—in the liver, around the waist, the heart and on the inner walls of arteries.

Body Overfueling

It's not difficult to understand that when you eat a high-starch meal which also includes a quantity of fat, you are over-fueling your body. If you've ever flooded the carburetor in your car with too much gasoline, or choked out the fire in your furnace by piling on too much coal, you can readily understand that over-fueling is something to be avoided. Unburned gasoline floods out the carburetor in your car. Unburned coal clogs up the grate in your furnace. And unburned fats pile up on the walls of your arteries.

My advice on "eating to keep your arteries young" would be only half complete if I were to neglect reporting the encouraging results being obtained in hundreds of cases of hardened arteries treated with choline and inositol—two members of the vitamin B-complex family.

Choline and inositol are found in most high protein foods—lean beef and lamb, organ meats (liver, kidney, heart, brains), eggs, and natural cheese.

A choline and inositol deficiency results mainly from a diet low in protein, and high in fats and carbohydrates.

If you want to avoid the circulatory disorders which rank among the chief killers past the age of 40, my earnest plea is this: Starting with your next meal, put yourself for life on a high-protein, low-starch, low-fat diet.

Don't Be Panicked
And, above all, don't be panicked by half-understood published reports of experiments on arteriosclerosis into omitting certain high-protein foods which are among your richest sources of the fat-controlling choline and inositol.

If for any valid reason you cannot consistently follow a high-protein diet, then I urge you go to your nearest health store for a supply of lecithin granules. Use this natural food substance to obtain supplemental amounts of choline and inositol to prevent accumulation of cholesterol on arterial walls.

Within these Six Commandments lies the nucleus of all dietary truth. They are the keystone of all your efforts to become a trim, radiant person, glowing with health and energy.

Over Irving, 57-55

Plano Notches First Win

Wildcat basketball fans certainly got their money's worth Tuesday night in Plano Senior High School's thrilling 57-55 overtime victory over Irving High's tigers at the Senior High Activities Building.

Plano, who lost to Irving 67-65 only one week previously, used stall tactics on Irving throughout most of the fourth quarter and the overtime period to pull out their first win of the season. Plano's record is now 1-2.

Coach Mike Bridges, in his first season as a Plano coach following successful years at Wichita Falls, was elated over his team's first victory of the season.

"We cracked the ice tonight," Coach Bridges said. "I think we are over the hump now that we've won that first game. It is always good to get that first game win behind you."

"We've been playing some good teams. Irving and Highland Park are both tough and I understand Tyler Lee is also tough," Coach Bridges commented on the schedule.

"I think we are going to have a better than average ball club. If we can get by these first few games, we'll be all right for district," Bridges added.

Coach Bridges and his Wildcat crew begin District 13-AAAA play Dec. 7 at Lake Highlands. Plano is the defending district champion.

Two games lay between Plano and that Dec. 7 game. Plano travels to Tyler Lee on Nov. 30 and then hosts Hurst Bell on Dec. 3.

Plano's win over Irving didn't come easy.

Irving used a full court press on Plano in the later stages of the fourth period as the Wildcats were attempting to stall the clock out with a 52-50 lead.

Steve Rogers was stripped of the ball with 50 seconds remaining by Irving's Fred Stephenson which set up Irving's game tying shot. With only three seconds remaining, Irving's 6-6 Robert Jones put the ball through the hoop for a 52-52 game and to cause the overtime period.

Plano reacted in overtime by scoring first on a bucket by Norman Hall to go ahead 54-52. Irving bounced back on a freethrow shot by Jones for a 54-53 score. Plano extended their lead to 56-53 on two freethrows by Hall with 1:02 remaining.

Irving's Stephenson scored just under the one minute mark to keep the game a thriller at 56-55 but Plano's Flip Redden sank the from half of a one-and-one freethrow with four seconds remaining to put the 'Cats out front to stay, 57-55.

Hall, a senior, paced Plano throughout the game by scoring 27 points including four of the overtime points.

Tom Quigley contributed 10 points, all in the second half. Redden had nine points, Dwayne majors added seven points while Steve Rogers registered four points.

Plano had an emphasis on defense against Irving in keeping the taller and quicker Tigers from running and gunning.

Irving never controlled the tempo of the game and it could have been that edge which provided Plano with the victory.

Dallas Carter Tops

Viking Sophomores

Dallas Carter pulled away from Vines High School in the fourth period to defeat the Viking sophomores 70-66 Monday night.

Vines roared to a 23-14 first period lead, but Carter rallied to close the gap at halftime to 47-46.

Vines stumbled in the third period and trailed Carter 51-45 entering the fourth quarter. Carter used their superior bench power to keep fresh players in the game and out last Vines in the fourth period.

"Carter just had more depth than we did," Coach Gary Moseley said. "We will improve as the season continues. We just got tired in the fourth period when it looked like the game could have gone either way."

Vines was paced by Kirk Killingsworth's 17 points and 16 rebounds. Rick Curtis had 16 points and 15 rebounds.

Dan Davis led rebounding with 18 while scoring 11 points. Scott Nicholson added 12 points, Jay Sax contributed six points while Gary Dalton and Stone Youngblood each contributed two points.

Vines shot 37 percent from the field and what also contributed to their defeat was 37 turnovers.

"Other than turnovers, we played a real good game," Coach Moseley said. We had real good hustle from everyone. The players gave 100 percent."

Next game for the Viking sophomores is today at Vines High School against W.W. Samuel at 5:30 p.m.

Irving Tops

Plano's JV

Irving High's Tiger Junior Varsity handed Plano Senior High's JV their first loss of the season Tuesday night in a lopsided 67-46 win.

"Irving just came out ready to play and whipped us all over," Coach David Hanebutt said. "We just weren't ready for them mentally and they really hurt us."

Dalton Davis scored 16 points and C.M. Pier had 10 points in pacing the Wildcats.

Jim Thrash, Allan Heider and Chris Sabonis each had four points while three point contributions were made by Clay Chapman and Joe Paulic.

Ken O'Donnell had two points.

One of the greatest of all sports today in this country, fishing, was thought to be a stern duty by early colonists who would not openly admit that they enjoyed it. Fishing and hunting too, for that matter were not to be thought of in any other way or manner than means to an end. The origin of American sports plus hundreds of interesting sidelights and personal experiences of world-renowned athletes of our time and generations gone by will make for a wealth of informative topics, which will appear in this column regularly. Chargers Win
Bowl Game

Plano Sports Authority's American League champions, the Chargers, beat the Lake Dallas Falcons 22-6 in the Walt Garrison Pee-Wee Bowl Saturday at Lewisville.

The Chargers came back from a 6-0 deficit to score two touchdowns in the third period and to add an insurance touchdown in the fourth quarter. Wayne Compass got the scoring rolling by reaching paydirt on a 12-yard wingback reverse. The Chargers added the two-point conversion on a pass from Brad Craghead to Mark Medellin.

Later in the second period, Medellin broke loose from his fullback position to ramble 22 yards across the goal line. Dave Berdan ran across the two-point conversion. In the fourth period, Berdan scored again on a five-yard tailback sweep. The PAT failed. The Chargers also played well defensively in shutting off Lake Dallas following the first quarter score. Craghead came up with a pitchout interception and Berdan had a pass interception. Other defensive standouts included Crag Draxler, Mike Johnson, Steve Stephenson, Medellin, and Compass. Offensive standouts were Jeff Williams, Jeff O'Brian, Mike Vensel, Greg Shell, Craghead, Medellin, Berdan and Compass.

"Being down 6-0 and coming back to completely take charge of the game shows the character and determination these young men have exhibited all season," Coach Jim Moore said.

Make it an RCA
ColorTrak
Christmas

Getting the color right is what ColorTrak is all about. It's RCA's most automatic, most reliable* TV ever.

Automatic features do the adjusting; you do the enjoying.

- Automatic Color Control. Works to keep colors consistent from program to program, channel to channel. It searches out variations in color and adjusts the picture automatically!
- Automatic Flesh-tone Correction. Automatic circuitry brings flesh-tones into natural range while minimizing effect on other colors. So you see natural flesh-tones and natural background colors side by side.
- Automatic Contrast/Color Tracking. Synchronized controls let you adjust contrast, color and brightness with one knob instead of three. The picture stays beautifully balanced, just the way you like it.
- Automatic Room Light Picture Control. Light sensor automatically adjusts for changes in room light—brighter in higher room light, softer as the room darkens. You get a rich, detailed picture day or night.
- Super AccuFilter Picture Tube. Exclusive tinted phosphors on the picture tube absorb room light to reduce reflection and give a more vivid, lifelike color picture, even in bright light. Picture tube also has a negative black matrix to further sharpen contrast.
- Constant-Voltage Circuitry. Reacts to changes in your home's power line voltage and adjusts to keep voltage inside the set steady. This helps prolong the life of vital chassis components.

*ColorTrak is the most tested TV for reliability RCA has ever produced.

Fireplace wood causes worry

By Polly Cramer

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — We put in a wood burning fireplace that we looked forward to enjoying very much, but the strong wood smell goes all through the house. This is not a smoke smell but wood. What kind of deodorizers, etc. can I use to tone this down. I am afraid it will get into our clothes and make them offensive? — MRS. G.G.

DEAR MRS. G.G. — Perhaps the trouble is with the kind of wood you are burning. Fruitwoods give off a wonderful aroma. Softwoods such as evergreens spark and smoke more than hardwoods. Perhaps your wood is green. Seasoned wood releases less tar into the air, smokes and sparks less. How about this, readers, have any of you had this trouble and corrected it? — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — I have two Pet Peeves. The first is with those dimly lighted restaurants where one cannot read the menu. The candles and dim lights do look romantic, but are not too practical. The second is that women often cannot eat more than half of the large portions served and would much rather have less and pay less. — HILDEGARDE.

DEAR POLLY — I used to be constantly turning on the back burner on my stove, when I thought I was turning on the front one. I marked the designation on the stove for the front burner with a dab of red nail polish. No more confusion.

A sponge is far better to use for wiping up small spills in the kitchen than a towel or dish cloth. — LUCILE.

DEAR POLLY — When sewing, I stick pins and needles in a sponge instead of a pin cushion. The needles stay better and do not run or disappear the way they do in a pin cushion. The sponge can be cut to any desired size. — LORA.

DEAR POLLY — When sewing side seams in dresses, I always start at the bottom and sew up. I never have to trim off any of the skirt bottom. Pin at the sleeve line and pin well in between, as some materials are so slippery.

Also, after a two-and-a-half-inch binding is sewed in around the neck, slash so it lays flat. Then sew again on the right side close to the neck edge to keep it from stretching. When done correctly it is nice and soft, but when done incorrectly it can be hard as a board. (Polly's note — Many readymade dresses are stitched this way.) — MARGARET.

DEAR POLLY — To remove coffee and tea stains from china pottery, I rub a small amount of baking soda in with my fingers and then rinse. I also find this great for polishing chrome canisters, my tea kettle and so on. It does not make scratch marks. — ALMA.

DEAR POLLY — Old toothbrushes make great fingernail and toenail brushes — never throw one away. — MISS S.

Polly will send you one of her "peachy" thank-you cards, ideal for framing or placing in your family scrapbook, if she uses your favorite Pointer, Peeve or Problem in her column. Write Polly's Pointers in care of this newspaper.

For Thursday, Nov. 25, 1976

Bernice Bede Osol

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Friends and organizational contacts could be very helpful to you today monetarily. Your pals won't feel used if they can help you fatten the cat.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your chances for success are very strong today because of your optimistic, positive outlook. Act like a winner and you'll be the one to grab the brass ring.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You have the ability today to win others over to a cause you feel very partial to. Get on your soapbox. Make some converts.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Joint ventures look particularly profitable for you today, especially if you're involved with an affluent friend.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll find you will get on extremely well today if you deal with the top brass. Make it a point to sidestep subordinates.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Something promising is developing for you where your work or career is concerned. Be ready to move swiftly when opportunity knocks.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Lady Luck tends to favor you today in ways not immediately obvious. Nevertheless, you'll learn of them later.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be patient in negotiating today. You are the one who will come out the winner if you are persistent and stand your ground.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Concentrate on situations today that are personally important. No one else can do a better job for you than you can do for yourself. Be your own spokesman.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan 19) Someone who is working on your behalf has the situation well in control. Let this person pull most of the strings today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You need to be out among the doers and where the action is today to perform at your best. An excellent day for club or organizational activities.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) People who are essential to your immediate plans are prone to grant you favors today. Don't be hesitant about asking for help.

Your Birthday

Nov. 25, 1976

This year will be an interesting one for you. You will mix both business and pleasure. People you meet in the workaday world will turn out to be excellent social companions.

TV TIMER SPRING GROVE, Ill. (UPI) — A survey of attitudes about home security indicates that some people who use late night television to lull them to sleep use a timer to turn the set off 45 minutes to two hours after they go to bed. One insomniac told the survey takers for a timer manufacturer: "We find that not worrying about awakening at 2 a.m. to turn off the TV removes another nagging thought that might have kept us awake."
